Join us to celebrate National Science Week 2023

This event has been made possible by a National Science Week grant.

Title: Mount Burnett Observatory 'Footy Oval Astronomy'

Date: 19th August

Time: 7pm to 10 pm

Location: Monbulk Rangers Soccer Club, 121 Old Emerald Road Monbulk

Event description: This educational and fun event will include our experienced MBO Astronomers. See deep space objects for yourself with the MBO telescopes and learn about the telescopes they're using. Entertainment includes the MBO 'off-site-team' at a secret 'dark sky' location. Just wait for when they relay back their findings to Channel 31 who'll be broadcasting live at the event to free-to-air TV and Facebook. Dance under the stars with local live band, St Emerald.

A line up of guest speakers will feature delegates from the Monash University High Powered Rocketry Team. Award-winning astrophysicist / author, and Australian Government Women in STEM Ambassador, Lisa Harvey-Smith will talk about her work and her new children's book 'Universal Guide to the Night Sky'. The MBO NAMBO Team's presentation explores science with you and don't miss our Radio Astronomy Team display, staff will be on location to answer your all your questions. How about being an upcoming scientist of the future. Check out the great activities with MBO 'Young Observers'. All this and more.

Contact Details: RSVP and further info contact: Event Organiser, Kim Steere on 0409 703 929 or email info@mbo.org.au
